(Purpose)

Article 1 These regulations stipulate copyright attributions between authors and this Society in relation to original papers, notes, comprehensive papers, technical reports, survey reports, review papers, discussions, feature stories, etc., published in Journal of Japan Society on Water Environment and Journal of Water and Environment Technology (hereafter referred to as JWET), which are the journals issued by this Society (hereafter referred to as “works”).

(Copyright Attributions)

Article 2 The copyrights in relation to works published in the journals (including the rights that are stipulated in Article 27 and Article 28 of the Copyright Act) shall be attributed to this Society according to these regulations. The authors shall write down prescribed matters in the separately stipulated copyright transfer form, and shall submit the form at the time of submitting the works’ manuscripts. However, if the decision is made that the contributed or posted works will not be published in the journals, the corresponding copyright transfer forms shall become invalid. In cases where it is difficult for a copyright to be attributed to this Society because of special circumstances, the matter shall be handled upon request from the author and upon consultation between the author and this Society.

2 In spite of the description in the previous paragraph, copyrights are attributed to the authors for manuscripts submitted to JWET after July 1, 2019 and accepted for publication afterward. For those manuscripts submitted before June 30, 2019 and accepted for publication and to be published in a JWET issue after Issue 5 of Volume 17, the authors are to choose either to transfer copyrights to this Society or to attribute the copyrights to the authors.

3 When the authors possess the copyright in paragraph 2, this Society shall contract License to Publish with the authors and publish the manuscript.

(Authors’ Rights)

Article 3 The moral rights of the authors (the right to make works public, the right to indicate the authors’ name, and the right to maintain integrity) shall be attributed to the authors.

2 This Society shall not object to or impede uses of works whose copyrights are attributed to this Society by the authors themselves for educational, study, diffusion, and other non-profit purposes. Moreover, such uses shall be free of charge.

3 If the authors themselves wish to use the works whose copyrights are attributed to this Society for profit, the authors shall make a request in advance to this Society and shall clearly describe the sources pertaining to this Society’s published materials in the works or in the copies used. However, uses pertaining to Paragraph 4 and Article

35 of the Copyright Act (reproduction, etc., in schools and other educational institutions) are permitted without requests to this Society.

- 4 The authors may publish their works (such as papers that have been published previously) on the authors' personal websites (including websites of organizations with which the authors are affiliated). However, when publishing, the authors shall clearly describe the sources pertaining to the journals of this Society.

(Authors' Obligations)

Article 4 The authors shall be responsible for the contents of works published in the journals of this Society. The authors shall obtain permission for reprinting from other parties' published materials.

- 2 The authors shall assume all responsibilities in cases where the works published in the materials issued by this Society cause infringement problems regarding copyrights and other rights and interests of third parties.

In such cases, this Society shall promptly notify the authors of the summaries related to uses of the works.

- 2 When third parties have paid considerations to this Society according to the measures of the preceding paragraph, the considerations shall generally belong to this Society.
